About

As a business owner in the arts industry, it's important to communicate to my clients the difference between someone who pushes the shutter button on a camera, and someone who cares about doing meaningful work. I strive to be the latter.

Every life and love has a unique story. Every story deserves to be preserved truthfully, uniquely, and artistically... preserved in a documentary fashion and candid style, with beautiful portraits.

I consider photography to be an art form. I am not a box studio. I put creativity along with years of studying and technical knowledge into each and every wedding. I value quality over quantity, and my goal is to produce beautiful prints that are just as timeless as the memories they hold. I place a value on photographic prints that far surpasses any dollar amount, and I understand that one day, all we will have left is our memories... and our pictures.

Hello there!

We want to say congratulations on your engagement! A wedding takes a lot of planning which includes time, patience, and even some creativity on your part. What you need to keep in mind is that all of the hard work will be worth it in the end. You will have a beautiful day that you will remember and hold close to your heart for the rest of your lives.

When you work with Reflections of Silver Photography you will learn that our goal is to capture all of the emotions of your wedding day. After the long planning process, it is up to us to capture in images the beautiful bliss of your special day. We'll work tirelessly and passionately from the beginning of the day to the exit of the newlyweds at the end of the night.

What to expect

Once you choose us we will begin by learning as much about you as possible. First thing would be to schedule a meeting at a time that works for you best.. This meeting will allow us to get to know each other and see if we're a good fit. I love to meet my clients beforehand so we can both develop a great rapport before your special wedding day. As soon as you have retained us for your wedding day we can begin planning your engagement session and discuss where you wish to do it. It's such an exciting time in your life and I want to make sure that I am able to learn about your photography needs and desires so that I can deliver the best memories for you to cherish for a lifetime!

On your big day we will arrive at your wedding location much earlier and begin scouting the venue to take detail shots prior to the ceremony. As the day progresses we will ensure that we cover all the photographs planned on our timeline beginning from the couple getting dressed all the way to your final exit and everything in between. In the days following, we will edit photos, blog your session, post some teasers, and also upload your photos to an online gallery so that you can share them with all your family and friends. We will also begin preparing any products you wish to order including albums, prints, wall art etc. It's truly our goal capture your wedding day memories in the best light possible so that you can cherish these moments for a long time to come!

Timeline

At our pre-wedding consultation, you will hear me speak a bit about a wedding day timeline and a list of family formal shots. A well planned out timeline is critical in having your day run smoothly. It is also important to have a list of who you want to have photographed at the wedding. We put a lot of emphasis on this important information for two reasons: it ensures that no one gets missed during photos as well as helping in the process to be more timely and efficient, and this helps my assistant and I to get an idea of the time it will take to get through certain parts of your day. I like to meet with the brides again one more time before the wedding, (4-6 weeks ahead of the scheduled ceremony date) where we will go over the timeline and your family formal list. If you need assistance putting these lists together, we are more than happy to help!!

Engagements

Being engaged is a very exciting experience and having an engagement session is the perfect way to celebrate this part of your life. Having an engagement session is the perfect type of practice before the wedding day. As a photographer I want the process to be as seamless as it can be. Therefore, having this time for me to work with you and having you practice posing together is essential. It will also give me an idea of what your tastes are as well. During an engagement session you will learn how to trust me. My relationship with my clients is built on trust. My clients will learn to see that I understand them and that this understanding will allow for me to make them look fantastic in their photographs. This is exactly how the business of taking great photos works.

An engagement session is nothing but fun! Having engagement photos taken is a perfect way to enjoy each other and get away from the stress of planning a wedding. What is even better is that the photos from this session can be used for save the date cards, guests books, and any other pre wedding items that you may need or want.
